

GLUTEN-RESTRICTED DIET

(Sheet 1 of 3)

PURPOSE

This diet is designed to eliminate the protein gluten found in barley, buckwheat, bulgur, millet, oats, quinoa, rye, spelt, triticale, wheat germ, wheat, or their derivatives for individuals with gluten-sensitive enteropathy or celiac sprue and dermatitis herpetiformis. The gliadin component of gluten is believed to be the trigger for intolerance; however, there are many components to the wheat molecule that may cause intolerance.

DESCRIPTION

The Food Guide Pyramid is used as the basis for meal planning. All protein sources are acceptable except those containing gluten. Products made from the flours or starches of arrowroot, corn, potato, rice, and soybean replace products made from wheat, rye, oats, and barley and those cereals and grains listed above.

Tips on Reading Labels: Those from wheat, rye, oat, or barley sources must be excluded from the diet. Only those from arrowroot, corn, potato, soy, or tapioca are permitted. Specific ingredient information may be obtained from manufacturers or the Celiac Sprue Association, PO Box 31700, Omaha, NE 68131; (877) 272-4272; website: www.csaceliacs.org. Gluten-free products are available from certain stores. Ask your pharmacist about your medications; some drugs contain gluten.

The following ingredients contain gluten and are frequently listed on product Labels.

- Flour or Cereal Products
- Hydrolyzed Vegetable Protein (HVP) or Textures Vegetable Protein (TVP)
- Malt or Malt Flavoring
- Modified Starch or Modified Food Starch
- Monosodium Glutamate
- Soy Sauce or Soy Sauce Solids
- Starch
- Vegetable Protein
- Vegetable Gum

NUTRITIONAL ADEQUACY

This diet should be adequate in all nutrients. An added effort will need to be made to ensure adequate fiber.
